

AN AFFILIATE OF NORTHERN CALIFORNIA HIMSS

Women in Healthcare Information Technology

Inspiring tomorrow's female leaders

Save the Date for Women in HIT: Path to Success 2017

We are excited to announce our inaugural event hosted by the HIMSS Northern California Chapter of Women in Healthcare Information Technology (WHIT). This year's theme is "Path to Success", and we have lined up a panel of female leaders from across the healthcare industry to share their career journeys and the most important lessons they learned in achieving their success.

The event is designed to be highly-interactive with opportunities for Q&A, one-on-one conversations and an evening networking event. Our goal is to help you discover your own path to a successful career in HIT.

What: WHIT: Path to Success 2017

When: Friday, May 19, 2017

Where: The Presidio, San Francisco, CA

Cost: $75/HIMSS Member, $85/Non-HIMSS Member

Keynote Speaker: Nicole Fisher

Nicole Fender Fisher is a human rights and political advisor, primarily focusing on health care. Fisher is a Contributor for Forbes Magazine, has spoken at the United Nations, and often appears on news and sports network.

Panelist: Stevie Bahu, HIMSS NoCal President, Innovation

Stevie Bahu is a Client Services Executive for Modis Health IT partnering with hospitals and healthcare organizations along the West Coast providing resources within the healthcare IT space. She assisted in developing healthcare verticals in two of the organizations she has worked for, creating best practices, providing educational training, and establishing a new client base. Stevie's combined educational background and management experience has brought a unique perspective to her clients in their efforts to build high performance teams to achieve the standards for technology adoption and Meaningful use. Stevie currently holds the position as the President of the Northern California HIMSS Chapter that serves over 3,000 members throughout the Bay Area.

AN AFFILIATE OF NORTHERN CALIFORNIA HIMSS

Women in Healthcare Information Technology

Inspiring tomorrow's female leaders

Panelist: Sherri Douville, CEO and board member for Medigram

Sherri Douville is CEO and board member for Medigram, an intelligent mobile enterprise solution for healthcare that was published as a top #50 out of #165,000 digital health solutions in Becker's Health IT & CIO Review in 2016. She regularly writes and is invited to speak with health system leaders and policymakers about how technology and data will be applied to the future of healthcare. Sherri serves on the Board of Directors for HIMSS Northern California where she is Co-Chair for the Innovation conference, chair of program panels, and contributes to the newsletter.

Panelist: Rachel Katz, CEO of Able Health

Rachel Katz is CEO of Able Health, a San Francisco-based healthcare technology company helping providers participate in value-based contracts. Rachel's mission at Able Health is to use technology to ease the administrative burden of new payment models, so that providers and patients can flourish in the new era of healthcare. Previously, Rachel was a consultant at McKinsey & Company, where she served clients in the healthcare and technology sectors. Rachel holds a BA from Brown University and was a 2010 United States Fulbright Scholar.

Panelist: Dr. Mylea Charvat, CEO and Founder, Savonix

Dr. Mylea Charvat is a clinical psychologist, translational neuroscientist and the CEO and Founder of the digital cognitive assessment company, Savonix. She completed her fellowship in clinical neuroscience at Stanford School of Medicine and has been a lecturer at Stanford, the University of San Francisco and San Francisco State University. She has authored several peer reviewed articles and is a frequent guest author for the Huffington Post, has written for Tech Crunch.