

You're Invited

HIMSS Hawai'i Alaska Chapter invites you for a Hosted Italian Lunch and a Glass of Vino while we talk story to learn about new threats to healthcare IT systems and how the existing first and 2nd generation protection systems we use are enabling the very threats we are trying to stop!

Let's Learn How Malicious threats are allowed to thrive and evade in the security ecosystem and how other Healthcare Providers are winning the battle.

Keynote Presentation by Cybersecurity Expert
Juan Hernandez | SentinelOne

Event Synopsis: Legacy and next generation endpoint solutions have a dependency on manual, human or off premise review of events in order to detect missed threats. This creates the never-ending cycle of event reviewing post infection creating additional load on your IT staff. Juan will share a concept of active prevention, protection and detection that runs on the protected endpoint and how integration into your security ecosystem will lower the organizational IT work load and will increase protection.
